GIRL SCOUT HALL PLANNED

Richmond Home For Group May Be Built Soon

Richmond Girl Scouts are to have a new home here, providing plans discussed by the Girl Scout council last night are carried out.

The building, which will be located in the central part of Richmond, will be erected at a cost of about $2000. A gymnasium, an assembly hall and a stage will be included in the building. Lockers will be provided for the girls and clubrooms will be furnished.

Ever since the Girl Scouts were organized in this city, they have been forced to use the Boy Scout hall at Eighth street and Ohio avenue to hold their parties and plays. The Boy Scout hall is in use almost every night for the Richmond Scouts and as a result the girls have no place in which they may have athletic events and no proper meeting place.

The need of a hall for the girls has been recognized here for years but last night was the first time any recognized action was taken. No committees have been appointed as yet to arrange for the construction of the building. This matter will be taken care of at the next meeting of the council in December.

Miss R. Dyer, who is a member of the national Girl Scouts body was present last night and gave a report on the national convention of Girl Scouts held in Colorado Springs last month. Mrs. L. W. Wuesthoff presided.

SELBY MAN IN LIFE FIGHT

MARTINEZ, Nov. 1.—Miguel Perez, 25, charged with the murder of Roberto Peraz, 26, Selby Smelter worker, went on trial here today before Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie.

A plea of "not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity" were entered by Perez, which in the event he is found guilty will necessitate the jury trying him on a sanity charge.

Perez was shot as he entered a Crockett rooming house and died 24 hours later in the county hospital. Two women witnessed the shooting and named Perez as the one who fired the shot. He was arrested shortly after the shooting by Constable J. J. Fox and when taken before Perez was identified by the latter, according to police reports.

Perez in a statement to authorities is said to have declared he had been drinking and "didn't remember" what had occurred on the night of the shooting.

The defendant is represented by Hugh Donovan and Mortimer Veale attorneys. Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey is handling the prosecution.

Several Richmond residents are included on the jury which is as follows:

Antone Oman, M. H. Edgar, J. P. Taylor, Sr., Margaret L. Gately, Olive Concanon, Dennis A. Burns, H. L. Whalen, R. N. Everhart, H. McLaughlin, Mrs. Carrie Spierach, Charles Arn and Herman Seidel.

Deputy Sheriff Dike Joslin and Dr. H. D. Buckman were among the first witnesses called by the prosecution.

ZEPPELIN TO MAKE NEW SEA HOP

REICHSHAFEN, Germany, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin will make another flight soon to America. It was announced today while cheers still were ringing for the men who had flown it twice across the Atlantic.

As Zeppelin company officials announced plans for the next trans-Atlantic cruise, Dr. Hugo Eckener and his crew were the heroes of Germany, sharing attention only with Clarence Terhune, American boy stowaway on the return voyage that ended here early today.

Eckener, though proud of his ship—the first commercial one to make the round trip Atlantic flight—already is making plans for bigger and better ones. To be used in regular ocean service. Storms that tossed the Graf Zeppelin about "like a ball" on the return flight, he said, made it obvious that stiffer, stronger ships must be the agents of regular service.

Coolidge Wish Of 'Good Luck' Bodes Victory

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Herbert Hoover set out tonight on the final adventure of his presidential campaign—a transcontinental trip which will be interrupted several times for appeals for support, particularly to farm voters, before he reaches his Palo Alto home, where he will cast his own ballot.

The special train, bearing the presidential candidate, Mrs. Hoover, their son Allan, Chairman of the republican national committee, a party of friends and 40 newspaper correspondents and photographers, left Union station here at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The republican candidate was to make the first speech of four on his western journey tonight in the public square at Cumberland, Md., republican stronghold.

One other stop was scheduled tonight, at Keyser, W. Va., for five minutes for a reception by the state's republican leaders.

Shortly before 10 o'clock, after attending to some last minute details in his office, he visited republican national headquarters and thanked officials and employees there for their efforts in behalf of his election. It was his first visit to the headquarters.

From there, he went to the White House to bid good-bye to President Coolidge. The two conferees had a long talk.

Smith Hob Nobs On Sidewalks Of N.Y.

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith walked back along the sidewalks of the Fulton fish-market, rubbing elbows with the Chinese and polyglot immigrants of New York East Side, in reminiscences he portrayed today to a group of foreign language supporters, who called at his uptown hotel suite.

The Democratic presidential nominee dropped politics and talked of his interesting early days in a sentimental tone, recollecting the scenes of early New York. The time his grandmother came over from Ireland; the tenement in which he was born.

"New York was not a big place then," he said, as he twiddled a well-chewed cigar after Senator Wagner's formal speech of introduction. "It was the year the New York tower was built and this great business district here was unknown."

"It seemed to me that pretty nearly all our foreign people when they landed on the shores of America were not desirous of getting too far away from where the boat landed."

"My grandmother came over from Ireland in 1838 on a sailing boat that belonged to what they called the Black Ball line, and it anchored in the East river off the foot of Dover street. There was a beach there, and they put them ashore in small boats, and threw

KEYES WILL FIGHT CASE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—District Attorney Asa Keyes was at liberty on his own recognizance tonight after surrendering to a county grand jury indictment charging acceptance of bribes in the dismissal of Julian Petroleum collapse trials.

Arraignment of Keyes and four others indicted by the grand jury was set for next Thursday morning when they appeared before Judge Douglas Edwards today. Keyes, who called the indictments a plot, said he would fight the case to the limit.

Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett the Julian defendants from whom the grand jury charged Keyes accepted a $10,000 bribe, was released on $30,000 bond.

John I. Lasker, and E. Rosenberg, oil case defendants, and Jack Rosenberg, were released on $50,000 bond. Berman's bond was originally set at that amount but was reduced to $30,000 when it was shown he had posted a $20,000 bond in another case now pending.

Deputy sheriffs tonight were attempting to locate three others named in secret indictments also returned Wednesday night.

The charges against Keyes were that he solicited money from Berman, the Rosenbergs and others and then so directed the Julian cases that they were released. Two counts of transportation of liquor were also returned against Keyes.

Building Trades Seek 5 Day Week

The five-day week plan to provide additional work was last night adopted by the Contra Costa County Building Trades union.

According to the plan each building tradesman will agree to "lay-off" a half day each week. In this way it is expected reported unemployment conditions, due largely to the use of modern machinery will be alleviated.

The local council will take up the plan with contractors and business men of the county to secure their cooperation, according to L. J. Eldridge, secretary of the council.

"There are approximately 1100 building tradesmen in the county" Eldridge said. "Under the five-day plan this would give 10 men work in the building trades."

"Our slogan will be 'Lay off Saturdays and give another man a job.' We are not seeking a raise in wages. We merely want to help the present economic situation due largely to the speeding up of work by the use of machinery."

BURNING OF GIRL PROBED

LAKE BLUFF, Ill., Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Thorough search of the basement in which Miss Elfrida Knaak, former school teacher, either attempted to destroy herself or was forced into the firebox of a furnace, was promised tonight by Chief of Police Barney Rosenhagen, who again became active in the investigation of the mystery.

The chief, who was practically shunted aside in the investigation by State's Attorney A. V. Smith, expressed the belief that an attempt to murder was made, ignoring the mumblings of the girl at the hospital that "I did it myself."

Miss Knaak, near death at the hospital from deep burns on her arms, legs and head, has confused authorities with utterances of "psychic love," and insisting that "I did it myself," then mentioning names that might furnish a clue to discredit an attempted suicide.

Her mumbling of "Hitchy, where are you," caused authorities to question Charles W. Hitchcock, handsome village policeman, who had taught the girl elocution, and sales psychology in the police station, below which the "mystery burning" took place.

Hallowe'en Party Prank Injures 300

PLEASANTON, Nov. 1.—Three hundred persons, a majority of them children, were blinded and panic stricken when a tear boom was hurled into the midst of a Hallowe'en party last night by a practical joker.

FRENCH TRACK HAS WOMEN JOCKEYS

PARIS, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—The increasing invasion of women as jockeys on French race courses, particularly on the smaller tracks in the provinces, has met a check from the "Société du Demi-Sang," the powerful organization whose word is practically law in turf matters, which has officially disapproved of feminine participation.

San Placed
Holding that women jockeys are not likely to help the encouragement of the sport, the committee of the society announced it will refuse subventions to any organization which allows any but male jockeys to race on its tracks.

The decision has been received with numerous protests, for it is recalled that some of the outstanding horse riding achievements recently have been accomplished by women, such as Mrs. Mary Farnham, who won the Prix de la Reine, and the recent women's horse race from Paris to Nice.

The ban applies even to women taking part in trotting races. This is hard on places like Normandy and Provence, where there have been for some time past regular trotting races reserved for women.

Volcano Dust Plunges Ship Into Darkness

SNYDEY, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—A plume of volcanic dust, accompanied by heavy showers of choking volcanic dust, was the worst and terrifying experience of the crew of the cargo steamer Emilian on a voyage from Singapore to Suva.

Near the Malay Archipelago, at 8 o'clock on Monday, the sky suddenly became overcast, and before many minutes had passed the ship was in the midst of inky blackness. Heavy dust descended on the sea and all over the Emilian May minutes passed and the dust continued to fall. Then the heavy clouds became less dense and gradually daylight came through the pall. Stronger and stronger became the light, the dust ceased, and the crew breathed sighs of relief.

The dust or ash was from one of the volcano peaks on Flores Island, which had been dormant for some time. On the southern side of the island are several lofty volcanic peaks.

One of the most severe dust-storms of this character occurred at San Jorge, in the Azores, in 1818. The cloud appeared as a solid bank. It was impenetrable, and the edges hung like a curtain. After leaving the crater the clouds expanded to enormous dimensions and rolled like a torrent of great weight and of solid matter suspended in it.

MACHINE GUNS LACKING IN PICTURE

Patrons of the California theater are going to have a real treat in "Me Gangster," which comes for a 2 days showing starting today.

"Me Gangster," based on Charles Francis Coe's story, which ran serially in the Saturday Evening Post and has been published in book form, was directed by Raoul Walsh, Fox Film ace, along progressive lines.

Believe it or not, there is not a machine gun in the entire picture, there is no enmity between law breakers and police, yet there always is poignant, human drama, thrills, suspense, romance, battles of wits, battles of brawn with no scene that is not as natural as it is logical.

From all of which one can gather that "Me Gangster," as a story of the underworld, is refreshingly different; and it is.

Don Terry, juvenile, playing the lead in his first picture, is a real artist in Walsh's hands, and June Collyer is more beautiful than ever. Anders Randolph, Carol Lombard, Joe Brown, Nigel De Bruiler, Arthur Stone, Stella Adams and Burr McIntosh are part of the brilliant supporting cast.

In "Me Gangster," Fox Film directed by Raoul Walsh, Joe Brown plays himself for the fourth time in a motion picture. The former restaurant and road house owner in and outside of New York who is as well known as Mayor Walker, has "clicked" in every picture in which he has appeared.

TARZAN THE MIGHTY

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Chapter I.

JUNGLE KING

"Dance!"

The girl, a gleaming blonde beauty, figure full, delicate, volu-ptuously formed, clad in a single leopard skin, drew away from the menace of the eyes and voice of the dark white man, reversion to the elemental, a thousand miles from civilization.

"Dance, I tell you!" hissed Black
John through his wolfish teeth.

Her eyes, deeper and more blue
than any lake of the Dark Continent, shot a quick glance to the right. There lay the jungle, teeming with wild life, fascinating, mysterious, with its keen, heartless struggle for existence, crowned by the survival of the fittest. It was beautiful—and relentless.

Another quick glance to the left.
There was the stockade walled by man from pitiless luxuriant nature.

Mary Trevor saw the butts, the cabin to which she had been borne with her little brother Bobbie after the wreck of the liner "Empress," sole survivors picked up by Black John, the beachcomber. In a great semi-circle before the thatched black-skinned natives, on one of the Patriarch, on the other the dreamers with their outlandish hollowed logs covered taut with goat skins.

They were waiting for Black John to call on the spirit gods of their ancestral jungle, waiting for him to demonstrate again the power of the white-man's witchcraft.

"Dance!"

An instant her eyes turned heavenward as she waited a prayer.
Above swayed the tangle of tropical moss and rope-vines. It was a glorious wild picture of nature where every prospect pleases—and only man is vile!

Black John seized Mary in vise-
like grip by the wrists.

"Dance! Dance at this ceremony of the Curse of Tarzan! The next time, remember, it will be the ceremony of our wedding. Dance—or I will call the priests and perform
the ceremony now!"

With his other hand he waved.
The weird sound of the native
drums accompanied by the clatter of spears and aboriginal musical instruments burst forth in a pandemonium of barbaric tempo.

Black John advanced into the center of the group, descended on a pirate's crew that had settled in the jungle generations ago, intermarried, now reduced to the primitive state of superstitious savages
—a few villages. He himself, the warrior, son of a noble British family, by his superior wit and shrewdness had made himself the leader of the tribe, pretending a mastery of witchcraft.

He looked the rope and let it fly out. It caught on the limb of another tree with a peculiar loop

that fastened itself. He pulled it tight, swung in a quick arc to the ground, slackened the rope and with a deft twist pulled it off the limb
and down.

Handsome and erect he stood,
every muscle playing smoothly as he gathered his grass rope, coiled it and slung it over his shoulder.

Suddenly above the multitudinous sounds of the jungle he heard something that set him in quick motion crashing through the tangle.

It was Teeka, the she-ape, belle of the jungle, giving a call for help.
The man parted the fronds of an underbrush in time to catch a glimpse of a tiger, a leopard, a strange to that part of the jungle,
as the powerful arms of the ape
grasped Teeka about to bear her off. Teeka chattered and screamed in terror.

An instant and the man with incredible quickness and strength was between them, facing Taug.

"Go back whence you came! I, Tarzan, command!"

He stretched forth his arm with an imperious gesture. But it was the voice that would have arrested and held attention. It was a human voice—but these were no human words.

For of all the beasts he knew the language, knew their names, and how to call them, knew their trials
and all their dangers; he had them
played and lived and suffered.

This was Tarzan, the Mighty,
King of the Jungle!

Chapter II

QUEEN OF HIS KIND

Into the heart of the jungle, mysterious and fascinating, where Tantor, the elephant, prince of beasts, trumpeted to the herd, where Muma, the lion, ruler of his kind, preyed on man and beast,
where lived the tiger, the rhinoceros, the crocodile, and above all the ape people who made up in shrewd cunning what they lacked in strength, years before had come two intrepid explorers, Lord and Lady Greystoke.

Delicious with the dread jungle
fever, Lord Greystoke and Lady Rosalie tossed in their bunks in the cabin they had built. Scientists though they were and protected against the perils of the jungle, the science of their day had given them only imperfect protection from perils unseen, microscopic.

In a sudden silence, Rosalie staggered up from her bed, awayed across to her husband, so still and took his hand. It was cold. She laid it down, tottered in a daze
over to the bed where crouched little Edward, her baby, born on the expedition. With a prayer on her lips
she, too, collapsed on the floor, another martyr to the white man's conquest of the tropics.

Toka, the she-ape, had just been the victim of another jungle tragedy. Her own baby had fallen a victim to the death-for of man and beast—the death of Toka, wandered, unconsoled, when suddenly from a strange habitation in her jungle
she heard a piercing cry, a wail.
It was not of an ape-child. Yet it was the cry of some animal strangely akin. And this was the wail of hunger.

Toka looked over, looked in and entered. What she found stirred the depths of her already over-wrought mother heart. She picked up the baby, caressed it, fondled it, clapped it to her breast. There was none to say her nay. She loved off with her founding man-child.

COAST SEASON IN CLIMAX SATURDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Football on the Pacific Coast will reach a climax Saturday when four members of the Coast Conference, each with an opportunity to finish in first place, engage in two contests on California gridirons.

The Cardinals of Stanford University left Palo Alto tonight for Los Angeles, where they will meet the University of Southern California in one of the annual football classics of the west.

The University of Oregon's eleven was on its way to Berkeley to oppose the University of California's Golden Bears in an equally important game.

The "Big Three" of California remain undefeated in conference play while Oregon, despite an early season loss to Stanford, has improved to such an extent since that time that it has been accorded a chance to beat the Bears.

Contests to be played Saturday have mounted in importance until they are overshadowed only by the "Big Game" between Stanford and California on Nov. 24 and the result of that game can never be predicted. There are four possibilities contingent on the results of these games. They are:

In case U. S. C. and Oregon win Southern California will virtually clinch the pennant with only Washington State and Idaho remaining on its schedule before the Inter-sectional conflict with Notre Dame.

In event California and Stanford win, the result of the contest to be played between the two schools will probably decide the title.

Victories for Oregon and Stanford and a win for California over Stanford would like bring a tie for first place between Stanford, Southern California, Oregon and California.

If California and U. S. C. are the victors there will be a possibility of a tie for the championship between the big three of this state.

Cards-Bears Favorites
Stanford and California were the favorites tonight, but the four teams were considered so evenly matched that a single error might provide upsets.

The Cardinals have made more impressive showings this season than the Trojans of Southern California and yet the Southerners have a power that will not be easy for Stanford to dominate.

Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner has gained widespread publicity with his "formation B" which is built around Frankie Wilton, halfback and Captain "Biff" Hoffman, fullback.

Against this Coach Howard Jones of U. S. C. will present one of the most efficient formations for interference running that has been seen on the coast and in the trail of the Interferers will be Don Williams, star quarterback of U. S. C.

Bears Meet Oregon
The Golden Bears will go into the game against Oregon with instructions to stop Johnny Kitzmiller, sophomore star of the Oregonians, while the northerners will be ordered to watch Bernie Lom, California halfback, with the possibility of evenly matched lines these two players will probably stage an interesting duel to determine the final score.

Two other conference games are on the schedule for the same day. Washington State will meet Idaho at Moscow and Oregon State will battle Montana at Corvallis.

Ramblers Beat Federal Cagers At Roosevelt

The Richmond Ramblers defeated the Federal Cagers in a practice case last night at the Roosevelt gym. The final score was 55 to 32. The game was one of the wildest staged at the gym this year. Both teams were about evenly matched until the fourth quarter when the Federal's defense crumbled.

The lineup: RAMBLERS—E. Ellis, 16 and C. Rice, 3, forwards; A. Ellis, 17, center; T. Frankie 17 and Ripley 2, guards.

FEDERALS—Randall 6, and G. Hard, forward; Housman 12, center; Linstead 12, and Plimm 2, guards.

FRANCE UNABLE TO PRODUCE GOLFERS

PARIS, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—The people of France are coming to the conclusion—indeed, they had already reached that stage—that they cannot produce great golfers.

This was stressed once again at the recent French Open Golf championship at the links at Versailles when eight British golfers, headed by Cyril Tolley, former British amateur champion, occupied the first eight places at the finish.

Golf is a game which has never appealed to the imagination of the average French man or woman; on the contrary, however, the whole nation enthuses over another importation from across the channel—rugby football—at which the French international teams have before now given England's best a sound drubbing.

Tennis Popular
Hockey and tennis are the two other most popular sports in the country. What many Americans have tried to discover without success is why baseball has never caught public favor, not only in France, but the Old World generally. It is as a closed book to about 99.9 per cent of the people of Europe.

Mexico plans completion of that portion of the Pan-American highway within its borders during the next three years, according to reports received from Mexico City.

the game against Oregon with instructions to stop Johnny Kitzmiller, sophomore star of the Oregonians, while the northerners will be ordered to watch Bernie Lom, California halfback, with the possibility of evenly matched lines these two players will probably stage an interesting duel to determine the final score.

Two other conference games are on the schedule for the same day. Washington State will meet Idaho at Moscow and Oregon State will battle Montana at Corvallis.

Immigrants Score In Crop Contests

CALGARY, Alberta, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—That success in farming in Canada is not bound by any nice limitations of nationality, was strikingly demonstrated in the grain and good farms competitions conducted recently by the Calgary Board of Trade.

The prize for the best all-round farm in the district was awarded to Josef Casovsky, of Cochrane, Alberta, who emigrated from Hungary a few years ago. This competition also won the highest honors for a standing field of oats.

The second prize winner was Oscar Anderson from Sweden. The third winner was Wright, and Bond, of Irricana, Alberta, were from the United States, while the fourth R. Ness, of de Winton, Alberta, was from England.

CARDS GIVEN DOGS OVER TROJANS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Both University of Southern California and Stanford will take the field at full strength when they meet here Saturday in the game that may decide the Pacific Coast Conference championship.

Three cripples whose absence from the lineup would have handicapped the Trojans severely—Barry, Boren and T. Sba—have all been pronounced in playing shape. With these three men certain starters, odds favored Stanford 10-8, were expected to shift to almost even money by game time.

Coach Howard Jones was believed to have given the Trojans a new offensive strength and to have developed a strong defense against Stanford's famous "B" formation in a series of secret practice sessions.

The 50,000 tickets for the college game were sold out almost two weeks ago.

VICTORY SEEN FOR HOOVER AT POLLS

ferred for 25 minutes in the president's office and later were photographed together on the south
lawn of the White House.

Coolidge wished his former cabinet officer a pleasant trip to California, and a safe return, adding "good luck to you."
In the party accompanying the candidate to California are national Committee men Ralph Williams, Portland, Ore., vice chairman of the republican national committee; Ray Benjamin, Thomas T.
C. Gregory and Charles Robinson,
San Francisco friends; George Barr Baker, campaign adviser, and George Akerson, Hoover's assistant. Mrs. Ellis A. Yost, national committee woman from West Virginia, was to accompany the party to Keyser.

Hoover will enter "doubtful"
Kentucky Friday. He will parade through Louisville's streets and make a speech from the county courthouse during the morning.

Ohio will get a brief glimpse of him before he enters Kentucky.
Indiana and Illinois will see him during the afternoon, with stops in the Hoosier state at North Vernon, Washington and Vincennes and at Salem, Ill., the birthplace of William Jennings Bryan.

The special train is scheduled to arrive in St. Louis Friday night at 7:30, where at 8:30 the republican candidate will make the major speech of his western swing. He will appear finally for farm support over a national radio hook-up.

Plans for the construction of a $140,000 motor bus terminal in Dallas, Texas, have been announced, according to the National

of hearing each candidate.
"The radio doesn't deceive for a single moment," she said. "You can not quibble, you can not talk nonsense over the radio. In Hoover's radio speeches there has been not one word derogatory to anyone else. His acceptance speech and his address in New York city have been set down
as the finest in the last generation. That is your Herbert Hoover, my Herbert Hoover, from our own coast."

Farm Relief
Speaking of farm relief, Mrs.
Berry stated that Hoover declares farm relief means not one type of relief but names 19 possibilities of a farmer's welfare;
whereas the democratic candidate
has talked only of wheat.

Hoover's accomplishments during the World War, his feeding of the Belgians were mentioned and his early life from the age of 13 was given in contrast to his opponent.

"Is not the knowledge of a leader who knows the far ends of the earth to be considered in preference to the knowledge of a man who knows only New York and has never seen our own coast?" Mrs. Berry asked.

"Over and above all else, look well to the man. Without telling you one thing about himself, without dazzing you with the things that have come to him, Hoover ours only to serve."

Mrs. Carter Guest
The guest of honor was Mrs.
Albert Carter, wife of Congressman Carter of Alameda county, who told interesting bits of personal experience in Washington, D. C. "You can not think White House, without thinking of Mrs.
Coolidge, for her personality radicates throughout," she declared.
Mrs. Carter told of Mrs. Hoover and how her ideals are similar to those of Mrs. Coolidge.

Mrs. Carter sketched the puzzling matter of social calls in Washington, where there are six hundred calls that can be made;
of the difficulty of precedence in calls; and of the Monday reserved for calls on the wives of superior court judges; Tuesday for wives of House representatives;
Wednesday for wives of cabinet
members, Thursday for Senators' wives, and Friday for the wives of ambassadors. In conclusion, the speaker stressed the necessity of the women of the country to perform their duty in upholding the constitution of the United States.

Mrs. Ripley presided at the meeting and a short program of songs was presented by Mrs. E. D.
Armstrong of Hercules, accompanied by Miss Bernice Mills.
Her numbers were: "Breath of Heaven" by Hulten; "Salama" by Lang; and as an encore a popular Hoover song.

Reception Committee
The reception committee included the officers of the local republican women's organization and wives of republican committeemen in Richmond. Mrs. Marion Hazelton and Mrs. L. J. His-lop acted as ushers and at the conclusion of the afternoon tea
was served by the following committee under the direction of Mrs.
J. S. Spires: Mrs. B. S. Solomon,
Mrs. G. W. Forman, Mrs. G.
Bradshaw, Mrs. V. M. Stetelmeyer,
Mrs. T. J. Mickey, Mrs. Harriet Oberholzer, Mrs. H. J. Hill and Mrs. A. L. Rector.

Mrs. George Harlow was in charge of decorations, and the baskets of huge chrysanthemums used were loaned by Winters. A log fire in the large fire place down stairs was prepared through the courtesy of C. J. Lambrecht.

Mrs. W. W. Sanford was in charge of the signing of the Hoover-Curtis cards and Mrs. J. H.
Rumrill distributed pamphlets,
and stickers.

Mrs. Sanford is making arrangements for a meeting at the Richmond theater at Point Richmond

David Dutton will be the principal speaker.

In the Davisville section one farmer is reported to have shipped 2000 tons.

Legless Men
Make Legs In Iowa Factory

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Artificial legs are manufactured by legless men in a Council Bluffs factory. Seven men are employed in the plant, and they turn out more than 3,500 legs a year. Three of the employees are without both legs and the others have one leg amputated. "These legless men," G. A. John, owner of the company, said, "seem to understand the making of artificial limbs better than those who have never been without the use of their legs." Johnson himself lost his legs 26 years ago. He then devised the artificial limb he now manufactures.

ELSWORTH, Wis., Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—After a half century of separation during which neither knew of the other's existence, Kerry Michaels of this city and his brother, Charles, of Lewistown, Kas., recently were reunited. Charles was taken away from here by his mother when he was two years old. He was placed in a home in Michigan after her death and later was adopted by a Texas family. About a month ago he learned that a Michaels family lived here and made inquiries which led to the reunion. The brothers served in the Spanish American war and were in the same regiments.

Pinning a Medal on Him

Kirby in New York World, Feb. 20, 1920.

THOSE qualifications and achievements which make Herbert C. Hoover so eminently desirable as the next President of the U. S. have never been better described than by Charles E. Hughes at the Carnegie Hall meeting at which the Civic Forum's medal for distinguished public service was conferred upon Mr. Hoover.

"The Americanism of Hoover is shown in every deed, in every utterance. His achievement is described, his Nation, and established practice for the American name abroad which even the mistakes of diplomacy cannot obscure. He bears a name illustrious because of remarkable achievements; but, best of all, it is a name untarnished, expressive not only of exceptional ability but of the simple life of a modest citizen."

This is the opinion of a man who has been a distinguished Governor of New York, a distinguished Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, and the Republican candidate for President of the United States. It is likewise the opinion of an increasing number of American citizens of all parties, men and women alike.

Where is there another candidate, Democratic or Republican, to match him?

From an Editorial in the New York World (Democratic) Feb. 20, 1920.

LEICESTER, Eng., Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—In future, instead of threatening to blacken a man's eye, one should threaten to knock some of his electrons out of their orbits. So declared Prof. Leonard Hill, the scientist, in a speech here recently, when he expressed the hope that we would apply our knowledge of electricity, and the atom to common speech.

"If we could annihilate a single drop of oil," the professor said in another part of his speech, "and thus release the energy in it, the power thus set free would be sufficient to drive the Manhattan across the Atlantic."

Says Crime Expert

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Forgery is the highest type of crime intellectually according to Floyd L. Jones, handwriting expert.

"Forgery and its sister crimes—fraud, embezzlement and defalcation—belong to the category of premeditated crimes," Jones said. "A successful forger—if there are any—cannot afford to do his job only half way. He must copy, practice, be mathematically consistent and try to eliminate his own observable habits."

Violin Makers

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—The violin-making skill of the Benton family will be carried on here by the fourth generation.

The death here recently of Henry Benton, who had conducted the business of his forefathers since he was 11 years old, aided for a time by his mother, was followed by an announcement that Edward Benton, son of Henry, would continue the trade.

Among the well-known violinists who have used Benton violins, said to be among the world's greatest present instruments, were Jan Kubelik, Fritz Kreisler, Paul Kochanski, Bronislav Huberman, Carlos Sedano, Adrian Feiche, Juan Rubini and Albert Spaulding.

Henry Benton was born in Nakel, Posen, Germany, 72 years ago. He moved to Iowa when a child and the family later came to New Orleans.

To Dentists

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Movies may pave the way to painless dentistry.

Patients watched the movie on a screen in front of the dental chair while teeth were extracted or filled. Dr. Daly said the movie proved almost as effective as local anesthetics, and expressed the opinion that the motion picture might find a permanent place in the dental office.

Sleep Bad Habit,
Medico Declares

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Sleep becomes a vicious habit when carried to excess, Dr. H. M. Johnson, "sleep expert" at the University of Pittsburgh, said today. Most people, Dr. Johnson believes get sufficient rest in the course of six and a half to nine hours to carry them through the day and make their work enjoyable.

Sleep is vicious, he said, when it interferes with more interesting activities. Dr. Johnson studied 90 persons of both sexes ranging in age from 16 to 63 years in an attempt to discover the secrets of sleep. Women are less restless than men as a rule, he finds, and spend more time in bed. Persons engaged in mental activity during the day sleep less than persons engaged in work and only feebly stimulated.

Kidnap Poison
Plot Of Woman
In S. F. Probed

Cooper, 25, for whom police and federal authorities have been searching since Oct. 25. Mrs. Cooper was found on her doorstep this morning, partially drugged and moaning incoherently.

She told police that as she stepped from a street car, two men jostled her and she felt the prick of a needle in her back. She lost consciousness. When she awoke she was in a room where there were two windows. A "tall dark man" entered the room and asked her to sign several papers. She refused and he went away. Later he returned, she said, with another man, and when she refused to sign the papers, they beat her. Police are unable to understand this statement as there are no signs of a beating on her body. Ransom letters demanding $10,000 were received by her husband.

BILLBOARDS AND KANSAS

The Kansas supreme court has upheld the constitutionality of the law which prohibits billboards along the highways. The only signs which may now lawfully appear beside the thoroughfare are road markers.

It seems high time we grew up to something like this. For the most part we have stopped "chawing tobacco," wearing cowhide boots and growing chin whiskers. There is no reason why we should continue to tolerate the use of a majestic mountain as something to exhort the use of a patent medicine or find no better use for a pine forest than as a background for invitation to smoke some kind of cigarette. The great hills of New Hampshire, made beautiful by nature, are daubed with ugliness of man. On the trunk highways of Massachusetts you can't see America first because it is behind glaring signs.

We are a literate people, presumably possessed of appreciation for a glorious countryside. Some day we shall all be demanding respect for its charm as Kansas does now.—Worcester Telegram.

A careful reading of Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 27, passed at the 1927 session of the Legislature by an almost unanimous vote and endorsed by the leading water users and irrigation interests of the entire state, should bring one to the conclusion that this measure is one of the most important ever enacted for the good of all the people of the state. Surely the people of California will not fail to express an overwhelmingly affirmative vote on the water amendment which will appear on the Nov. ballot as No. 7.

Senator Glass says he doesn't believe Hoover is a brave man, but we have never read anywhere that Senator Glass ever offered to take on anything worse than the Chinese Boxers.

Alfred Noyes, alleged British poet, has now performed the ceremony of "debunking" Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, finding that as literature it is "all wet." But we doubt whether this action will make a big noise out of Mr. Noyes.

Our idea of a good joke would be to send Jimmy Walker out on the trail of Wild Bill Borah and Charles Evans Hughes.

Probably in 1931 the dear public will be able to see the candidate for president over the radio as well as hear him.

Campaign speeches may not change many votes, but they are certainly a great talking point for the radio salesmen.

"Just like the leaves," says the Milwaukee Journal, "the voters are beginning to turn." And also to whisper.

Another thing we never expected to read of was rotten eggs being hurled at a democratic speaker in the heart of Alabama.

The real democratic dilemma is how to get brown derbies on the rah-rah boys who never wear hats.—Milwaukee Journal.

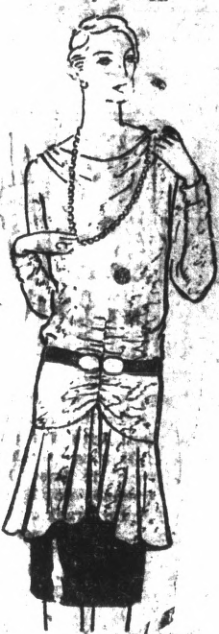

Member when the family used to group on the front porch to have kodak pictures taken on Sundays? Try to group 'em these days.—Florida Times-Union.

Formerly the people used to vote for the full dinner pail, but now they demand the full refrigerator.—Newark, O., Advocate.

There are five candidates for President in this campaign. Can you name three out of the five?

BEAUTY

Dear Miss Edna:

Will you please tell me what causes little yellow spots under the eyes? I have seen them on many people and have noticed how quickly they disappear in number and size. I have them and am worried for fear they will get larger. How can I get rid of them—MARGY.

I'm sorry, Margy, but I'm not just sure what you mean by these "little yellow spots" that so frequently appear under people's eyes. Frankly, I've never noticed just this condition and, as a result, am at something of a loss as to how to help you.

Possibly they are small, white heads (which are yellowish in color) and if so, to get rid of them you must take care in cleansing these portions of the skin.

If your skin is oily, it could stand cleansing daily for a while with tincture of green soap or with some lotion containing alcohol, acetone, or carbon tetrachloride. A weekly facial shampoo with shaving soap is also beneficial in cases of this sort. After thoroughly cleansing the face, gently press out the whiteheads between your fingers, which should be wrapped in clean gauze and then apply an astringent to close the pores. There are pore creams which will help to reduce the pores after such treatments.

The hot towel and ice treatment of which I have written so often will help to stimulate the circulation and carry away the impurities in the skin. However, if your skin is dry, use either castile soap and soft

ALL STEWART- WARNER

STEWART-WARNER TABLE MODEL

Complete with tubes and speaker $138.50

NEW AMAZING PERFORMANCE—New Compactness—New Beauty. MODEL 801 STEWART-WARNER TABLE is a powerful, ultra-selective receiver that takes its power directly from any 110 volt alternating current light socket. Its small cabinet contains the chassis of the set, the power unit and a built-in light socket aerial. In one marvelously compact and ingenious electrical assembly. The new Stewart-Warner Table Model is a masterpiece of design. For sheer beauty these new instruments are unapproached. The newly developed Stewart-Warner Morel finish lends a wealth of rich, warm, shaded-bronze color with a texture like watered silk, that makes them the center of attraction in any home.

And no sets ever operated more easily, more magically. One control for tuning, and one for volume. That's all. The gold plated, illuminated tuning dial is calibrated in wave lengths—a very unusual feature, made possible only by the precision of our coils and tuning condensers. The cabinet completely shields the electrical assembly and, in addition, the power unit is doubly shielded. All models are equipped for attachment of standard electrical phonograph pickups—and give you recreation of record music, equal to any of the new type phonographs. The tone is matchless, regardless of the price set you select for comparison. Full, round, startlingly life-like and beautiful—it must be heard to be appreciated.

FADA RADIOS

FADA 10

Table Model. Complete with tubes and speaker $174.50

Fada 10, A. C. Electric Table Model has seven tubes, five A. C. tubes, one power tube and one rectifying tube, single dial, illuminated station finder, antenna operation, rejector, phonograph attachment jacks and improved circuit and volume control. Velvetex finish two-tone metal cabinet in gold and brown. Length 21 in., Depth 12 in., and Height 9 in. Fada's claim to fame—ever has been superior tone quality. Reproduction of sound by Fada has always been so faithful that the result has long been known as "Harmonated Reception." The precise blending of Fada receiver and Fada speaker into one harmonious instrument is one of the factors in its "Harmonated Reception."

Precision in matching coils and condensers is one of the chief factors in maintaining Fada's marvelous selectivity and a high ratio of perfection is insured by rigid tests.

Fada's long distance reception is the result of a circuit design which is fundamentally correct. It is the result of radio engineering and manufacturing that count neither costs nor pains in the effort to turn out the best in radio and it is here that tests and inspection are doubly important. No change—no variation—not trusting to luck. Fada's remarkable sensitivity and distance control is the result of precision that knows no compromise.

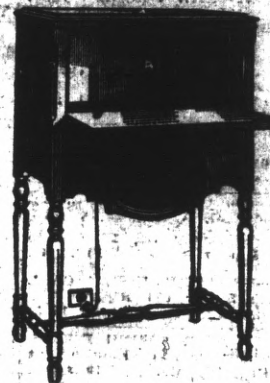

Absolute reliability is found in Fada radios. Reliability is the sum total of satisfactory tone quality, selectivity and distance. The pinnacle of achievement was reached by Fada engineers when they perfected an electrical circuit for use with heater element type (227) tubes. These tubes, when used in the Fada A. C. set, operate at 20% below their normal rated voltage, last many times longer than similar tubes used in other sets do not deteriorate with use, minimize power line hum and are not subject to the voltage fluctuations.

FADA 30

Complete with tubes and built-in speaker

C. indirect heater element tubes and has a push-pull power amplifier using either two of the 111 or two of the 216 type power tubes and one rectifier tube.
